

The Institute of Biophysics of the Czech Academy of Sciences Events in 2022

Vojtěch
Hudzieczek had a talk in Brussels
on gene editing

Humanitarian collection for Ukraine was organized

We published in NAR,
Nature Communications,
RNA Biology,
Angewandte Chemie, J.
Med. Virol., etc.

Petr Fajkus was awarded by the
Otto Wichterle
Award

The ISAB of the IBP suggested a
future direction
of the IBP

The FVE of the IBP
produced 122 MWh
per year

Career day:
"Per Aspera ad Astra"

Hana Polášek-Sedláčková is PI of
the Junior Star
project, the Czech Science Foundation

An exhibition of microscopy
images of the IBP and ISI was opened

Eduard Kejnovský was awarded by the Czech Acad. Sci. He received the Vojtěch Náprstek's Medal for science
popularization

More than 150
students of the secondary schools
attended the Day of Open Doors of the IBP

We opened Application Laboratory for Agriculture
Biotechnologies

We support families with a small children

A Summer School of Biophysics was organized

We educate more than 50 Ph.D.
students of
Masaryk University

Stanislav Kozubek
was awarded by
the Czech Acad.
Sci. He received the Medal of Merit